Since that time the Battalion has been constantly engaged in scouting for the Post at different points including Harpeth Shoals to avoid the destruction of the fleet. At this place under the command of Col. Mason recovered a vast amount of Government property that was abandoned by the officers of the fleet. The number of captures of this Battalion its arrival at this place will amount to 150 or more. Also succeeding in capturing a large quanwas shamefully abandoned by the enemy's attack.

One man by the name acting as guard was killed.

Finding that the enemy were greatly superior in numbers and being ordered not to fight them we fell back a mile until day light when we again re-encountered, meeting them in a short time. They attempted to flank us but did not succeed.
We retired toward Indian Spring disrupting the way as we came and held them for some time until we were again armed with rifles only we were unable to accomplish any thing in these hills.
The enemy have chosen their advantage and are waiting parties on either side. Col. L. M.
Clark Co. has been out but none of us can accomplish anything in these hills unless better armed. F. M. Stalcup Co. D. was wounded slightly in the knee.
